Caring for the Community

Aged Care Connector (ACC) | Fitzroy

- Meaningful work with elders
- Help make a difference for elders and their families
- Full Time

About the Organisation

The Victorian Aboriginal Health Service (VAHS) was established in 1973 to address the specific medical needs of Victorian Aboriginal communities. 2023 marks as a landmark year as VAHS proudly celebrate it's 50-year of providing a comprehensive range of medical, dental, allied health, and social services for our community.

As well as providing a variety of medical services, VAHS is committed to supporting the well-being of the community through contributions to community events and activities. VAHS is also committed to assisting research into the ongoing needs of the community.

VAHS is a child safe organisation, committed to child safety and wellbeing, and recruits' staff in accordance with the Child Safe Standards Victoria.

About the Opportunity

The AAC has the primary responsibility of connecting with local Elders, older Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people and their families to raise awareness of their aged care entitlements.

The role will also help determine the level of local demand for aged care services, identify existing aged care services, any service gaps in the area and continue advocacy work with clients as required.

Key Selection Criteria

To be considered for this role you must have the following.

- Understanding of and Commitment to the Aboriginal community
- Good communication and interpersonal skills, with the ability to build trusting relationships in community.
- Demonstrated understanding of the principles of person-centered care and trauma-informed practice.
- Experience working with older people.
- Understanding of the internal ACCHO services available to clients.
- Knowledge of or willingness to learn about the aged care landscape.
- Ability to or willingness to learn how to enter data and reporting.
- Ability to work independently as well as part of a multi-disciplinary team
- Well-developed computer skills
- Ability to work in a stressful environment and adapt to change
- Fully approved Covid 19 Vaccinations (including booster)

How to Apply

You will need a resume and a tailored cover letter outlining your skills, experience, and suitability for the role. Please forward your application to Employment@vahs.org.au before Monday 5pm, 22 May 2023.

This position is not available to persons not of Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander descent.
